FIENDISH MALICE.

Plot to Blow Up The Dublin Railway Terminus.

THE INFERNAL MACHINE.

The Police Claim to Have a Clue to the Perpetrators of the Outrage.

DUBLIN, Nov. 28.—One of the most fiendish plots for the destruction of life and property ever unearthed in this country was discovered this morning and the perpetration of a most infamous crime was thus prevented.

The plot was to destroy the railway terminus by placing an infernal machine under the bridge leading to the structure.

The machine found consisted of four detonations and a canister loaded with a powerful explosive, sufficient to have destroyed the bridge and the structure and hurled hundreds of innocent people into eternity.

The police claim to have a clue to the guilty parties, but whether the perpetrators were inspired by malice against the railroads or a desire to commit wholesale robberies during the excitement following the explosion is unknown.

There was great excitement in the city when the facts became known.

JUDGE HEARD'S WILL.

It Was Filed for Probate Here this Morning.

The will of the late Judge George Heard, bearing date October 19, 1888, with codicil dated October 25, 1889, was filed for probate in the office of Judge Thomas P. Hoy this morning.

The document provides, first, for the payment of all debts, and then bequeaths to testator's widow all of the household and other effects in the family residence, as well as $7,000 in cash, this being in full of her dower interest. This is named as a special and preferred legacy, to have precedence over all others.

To his grandchildren, Nora and Vest, children of John W. Houx, the sum of $500 is bequeathed; and also $500 to John S. Heard, son of Alcibiades Heard.

The residue of the estate is divided equally between testator's children, Jessie F., John T., Newton S. and Geo. C. Heard and Mrs. L. B. Dillon.

The widow, John T. and G. C. Heard are named as executors, to serve without bond.

Two Men Killed and Two Seriously Injured.

Special to the DEMOCRAT.

CONNEAUT, O., Nov. 28.—A head end collision occurred on the Lake Shore road this morning resulting in the instant death of Engineer Joel Gaines and Fireman W. A. Kirk. Engineer John Sohlinger and Fireman M. Mehan were badly hurt.

Both engines were demolished and forty cars loaded with stock were wrecked.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 28.—Wheat was weak today and lower; May, 68½; December, 61½. Corn slow and easier; May 39½. Oats dull, May 30½. Hog products weak and lower. January pork, $12.55; lard, $7.80.

Fighting Smallpox.

MR. WITHERS' BOND FILED.

Mr. Harrison Has Been Made Custodian of the Government Building.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 28.—The bond of Webster Withers, recently appointed collector of internal revenue at Kansas City, was received yesterday at the treasury department. Accompanying it was a letter from Mr. Withers, thanking Mr. Carlisle for the appointment.

Mr. Withers will take possession of his office December 2, at which time the bond will be formally approved. By this means he will escape the delay which might have ensued should he have waited for congress to convene. The senate takes its own time to consider confirmation and might not have acted on his case for some weeks.

Scott Harrison, recently appointed surveyor at Kansas City, was yesterday made custodian of the government building at Kansas City. Mr. Harrison's bond was approved November 24, and his commission forwarded to him.

TAUBENECK'S TALK.

He Outlines a Grand Scheme for the Populist Party.

Special to the DEMOCRAT.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 28.—The general assembly of the National F. M. B. A. met in annual session this afternoon. In an interview H. A. Taubeneck, chairman of the people's party national committee, said the results of the repeal of the Sherman law are becoming more and more palpable in the financial ruin and depression which is overshadowing the business interests of the whole country. He was afraid to think of the future. He says the presidential candidate for 1896 must be from one of the northwestern states, west of the Mississippi, and the vice presidential candidate from one of the southwestern states.

The policy will be to unite the west and south into a solid confederation. He says the populists will break the solid south then and carry every silver state in the union. The vote will be much larger than this year.

The democrats of the south and west are justly hostile to Cleveland and will vent their indignation by giving strength to the populist party.

FATAL FIRE.

Seven Lives Lost at Oil City, Pennsylvania.

Special to the DEMOCRAT.

OIL CITY, Pa., Nov. 28.—While the wind was blowing a terrific gale this morning fire broke out in a restaurant in this city and before the flames could be checked the entire block between the railroad and Eden street and from Center to Sycamore streets was destroyed.

The flames spread so rapidly that but little of the contents of the burned buildings was saved. Seven lives are reported lost, but at this hour details are meagre and the names of the unfortunates are not given.

A TIE ON THE TRACK.

Two Men Killed in a Railroad Wreck.

Special to the DEMOCRAT.

LUTHER, Miss., Nov. 28.—Some miscreant placed a tie on the track of the Mississippi Valley railroad near this place last night and at an early hour this morning the obstruction ditched a gravel train, killing the engineer and fireman and seriously injuring several other persons.

Malone Knocked Out.

Special to the DEMOCRAT.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 28.—On the barge Monongahela, anchored in the middle of the river, a terrific prize fight took place this morning between Jack Malone, of New York, and James Gresham, of Pittsburgh. Malone was knocked out in the seventh round. The fight was for a purse of $500 and gate receipts.

Suspected Jurors Dismissed.

Special to the DEMOCRAT.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 28.—Jurors Gates and Wilson, who were suspected of accepting a bribe while on the jury that tried Coughlan for the murder of Dr. Cronin, were dismissed from jury service this morning.

New York Stocks.

Special to the DEMOCRAT.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—On the market today railroad stocks were firm, but industrials showed signs of weakness.

WILLIAM'S ESCAPE.

An Attempt to Assassinate the German Emperor.

WAS IT PART OF THE PLOT?

William Receives a Box Similar to that Sent Chancellor Caprivi.

BERLIN, Nov. 28.—The astounding statement was made today that Emperor William received an infernal machine similar to that sent to Chancellor Caprivi. The machine was inclosed in a box and accompanying it was a letter stating that the box contained seeds and grain of an astonishing species.

Naturally the fact that an attempt had been made upon the life of the emperor, was kept a secret as long as possible but it leaked out today. The fact that the two machines sent at the same time indicates a dangerous plot of the anarchists.

APPROVES THE BILL.

Hon. John T. Heard is Pleased With the Tariff Changes.

Hon. John T. Heard arrived from Washington this morning, being called home by private business. He was seen during the day by a DEMOCRAT reporter and when asked his views concerning the tariff bill prepared by the ways and means committee of the house, he said:

"I have read the provisions of the bill as published in the papers, and in the main it has my hearty approval. There may be some features of the bill that can be improved upon by amendment when it comes before the house, but even as it is I approve of it. It makes substantial reductions upon articles that are of absolute necessity to every household, and the addition of raw materials to the free list will enable our manufacturers to compete with others in the markets of the world."

Mr. Heard is suffering from a slight cold contracted on his trip, but otherwise is in good health.

Mont Is In Mourning.

Depotmaster Carnes is in mourning today. He lost his A. O. U. W. charm from his watch chain and refuses to be comforted. A reward of a large chew of tobacco is offered for its recovery.

A Good Deal of Diphtheria.

A well known physician of the city informed the DEMOCRAT today that there are a good many cases of diphtheria in the city and it is his belief that the disease is spreading.

Flushed the Sewers.

Official Paper of the City of Sedalia.

THE live merchants report increasing trade.

GENERAL retail business is rapidly tending to a cash basis, greatly to the interest both of buyer and seller.

Now look out for an effort of the "protected" barons to work up a panic in the hope of defeating the tariff bill.

THE tariff bill is a measure upon which all democrats can unite.
That, at least, is in line with the party platform.

THE people declared for tariff reform. The "protected" barons declared against it. Now let's see who rules this country.

THE Forum, one of America's ablest periodicals, has been reduced in price from 50 to 25 cents. This reduction places the Forum within reach of all.

WHILE business was a little dull
during the past summer Sedalia pitched in and established a splendid library and fitted up a commodious and comfortable free reading room.

It is rumored that a large packing establishment from a neighboring city is about to be removed to Sedalia. No better point could be selected for such an enterprise, and Sedalia will extend the owners
a hearty welcome.

LET every soul in Sedalia be made happy next Thursday. The comfortable and well-to-do should be thankful for the good fortune they have enjoyed and the poor should be made to feel thankful that they live among a generous, liberal, charitable people.

THE gentlemen who professed to fear that the democrats in congress may restore the duty on sugar may rest in peace. The committee leaves raw sugar untouched, cuts the duty on the merchantable article in two and provides for the gradual reduction of the bounty paid to American sugar producers.

THE resignation of T. V. Powderly as grand master workman of the Knights of Labor, deprives that organization of one of its wisest and most unselfish leaders. While in the discharge of his duties he has necessarily offended many, he has still at all times had the confidence of the great mass of the American people.

MAJOR MCKINLEY, the great champion of the protected barons,
in his recent Boston speech said:
"I sound the note of warning here tonight that every reduction of the tariff will be followed by a reduction of wages." Doesn't the great advocate know that every possible cut will be made in wages anyhow?
Doesn't he know that the employer pays the lowest wages for which he can employ labor, and that while protected by high duties he has so reduced the price of labor in the mines and the factories that thousands of Americans have been forced out of those occupations by cheap Hungarian, Italian and other imported labor, and that even these are so ground down that when a factory is closed, at once goes up the cry of distress. But let Major McKinley and those for whom he speaks be careful lest they put too heavy a burden upon the broad shoulders of American labor; let them beware how they show the utter selfishness of the whole tariff system, lest at last an irate people rise in their might and sweep away

the whole system.

The Tariff Bill.

The tariff bill framed by the democrats of the house ways and means committee is before the country for intelligent consideration. To a great extent it is a revenue measure, and though many of the duties are still too high, yet it is probably as fair a measure as could be put in operation safely at this time.

The committee as far as possible adopted an ad valorem instead of a specific duty, and by this change every citizen can at once see the tax imposed on any article.

Free raw material is also made a prominent feature of the bill, and American manufacturers will now be enabled better to meet competition in the markets of the world.

No people on earth are the equals of Americans in energy, enterprise and inventive genius. Once our flag was familiar in every port in the known world and the American trader reaped rich harvests in every known market. Under the proposed bill it is hoped that our foreign commerce and our merchant marine will be revived and that the products of the skill of American workmen will find a market in foreign lands.

There has been a general reduction, principally on the necessities of life and materials used in manufacturing, amounting on the basis of the importations of 1892 to $50,- 000,000, but carrying with it an immensely greater decrease of the tax burden that has heretofore been borne by the American people.

SHOT IN THE BACK.

A Fatal Shooting Affray in Cass County.

William Milligan, a farmer living in the western part of Cass county, Sunday evening shot young Haynes, his cousin, inflicting a mortal wound.

The men got into a quarrel Sunday morning, on the highway, and soon resorted to blows, Haynes using a club with which to defend himself. They finally separated, each going in a different direction.

That afternoon Haynes went over to his aunt's house, where Milligan makes his home, and while stooping over cleaning his shoes, Milligan shot him twice—once in the back and once in the leg. A physician was summoned, but said he could do nothing, as the wound in the back was mortal. Milligan was arrested yesterday morning and lodged in jail at Harrisonville.

Both men were single, and lived with relatives. Haynes had only been in the county a short time,
his parents residing in Ohio.

VIOLENTLY INSANE.

Engineer Thurber in a Peculiar Condition.

TRIED TO KILL HIS WIFE.

The Doctors Predict That He Will Live Only a Few Days at the Furthest.

Sam J. Thurber, the well known former engineer on the M., K. & T., is violently insane at his home in Parsons, and on the night of the 26th inst. made an attempt to kill his wife.

Parties who came in from Parsons this morning say that the doctors have given up all hope of his recovery, and the probability is that he will live only a few days. The Parsons Eclipse of last evening says:

Our citizens will learn with deep regret that S. J. Thurber, the well known engineer on the M., K. & T., has gone violently insane. A year ago he sustained almost fatal injuries in a wreck at Sedalia, and since that time he has not been able to assume his duties as engineer. The attending physicians have been of the opinion that for some time past a clot has been forming on the brain in consequence of his injuries, and during the past three weeks he has shown evidences of softening of the brain. Yesterday his insanity assumed a violent form, and he now needs several attendants.

Mr. Thurber has been an engineer on the M., K. & T. almost from the time that Parsons was started and in consequence was one of the best known railroad men running on the system. He has always been an exemplary citizen of Parsons and popular with all his acquaintances. Our citizens will share the sorrow of the afflicted family.

While the many friends of Mr. Thurber will still hope that he may be restored the opinion of the medical experts is, that his injuries will soon terminate fatally.

WILL LEAVE TOWN.

Sheriff Porter's Family Will Not Be Here When Dick Is Hanged.

Sheriff Porter will send his wife and children to Houstonia a few days before the execution of Dick Robinson, and they will remain until after the hanging and the taking down of the gallows.

"I shall not commence the erection of the scaffold until the very last minute," said the sheriff to a DEMOCRAT reporter, "and prior to that time will send my family away. I don't want them to see the gallows either before or after the hanging, and for that reason will take it down before they return, so that they will find everything just as it was before they took their departure."

Was Ordered to Leave.

Mr. J. M. Goodknight, who was indicted for renting rooms for an immoral purpose, said to a DEMOCRAT reporter today that the charge was not giving him the least uneasiness.

"The fact is," said he, "I ordered the woman to leave as soon as I learned that she was an improper character. She didn't heed the request, so I went before a justice and instituted legal proceedings to evict her. She finally left, and had been gone fully three weeks before the meeting of the grand jury that indicted me."

THE ELKS' BENEFIT.

*The Great Levy and His Company
Last Night.*

A large and fashionable audience, composed of Sedalia's music loving people, attended the opera house last night to hear Levy, the world's greatest cornetist, and his company, composed of Stella Costa, soprano; Laura Dainty, reader; Edward Hesselberg, pianist, and Maro, magician.

The left box contained Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Johns, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bard, jr., Misses Withers, Hawkins and Mackey and Messrs. Yancey, Fitzpatrick and Ilgenfritz.

The right box contained Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Powell, jr., Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Maltby, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Mara, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Messerly and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ferguson.

The playing of Mr. Levy need not be commented upon, as he is simply beyond criticism. Miss Stella Costa has a rich soprano voice, but did not get close to the audience, from the fact that she has no facial expression whatever, and then, laboring under a severe cold, detracted considerably from her efforts.

Miss Laura Dainty, who is no stranger in Sedalia, recited "How Salvator Won the Race," by Ella Wheeler Wilcox, very acceptably, and responded to an incore with a poem by Eugene Field, "Voices of the Night."

Mr. Hesselberg is a pianist in every sense of the word. He is certainly "at home" with the piano-forte, and his playing is conspicuous by the lack of any unnecessary gestures with his hands or body, a feature common with almost all piano players. His fingering and technique was a marvel.

Mr. Maro entertained the audience very nicely, particularly with his ribbon trick and the duck trick. He had a pleasant way of getting a well known gentleman on the stage who "didn't play cards, and abstracting a bushel of playing cards from his coat, vest, whiskers, etc. Taken all in all, the entertainment was very acceptable, and the Elks may feel proud of having given the theater-going people of Sedalia a first class evening's entertainment.

WHAT HE SAW

HE dreamed he saw something, and he looked and behold the world was full of cemeteries full of tombstones and monuments. And there were inscriptions on them, and whole cemeteries full of "written tears to the departed" were hung high in the air by great monstrous poles with monstrous hooks with long bars on them. And on the poles were secret signs that an angel translated "fishing for suckers." And he read the memorials on the stones and they all began: "Here Lies." And one read, "To a once merry crew of old-style, misfit, bad-shaped, off colored suits that roved the ancient seas from ten to fifteen years ago, now going at 50 cents on the dollar." And the stone seemed to smile and the pole bobbed a little.

Another read, "Departed this life in the 80s 1000 overcoats who got their necks broke in a race with new styles, new cuts, new materials." Beneath was a P. S. that read, "If thou takest me to thy bosom thou wilt be an Exodus." And the pole bobbed a little more. Off in a corner was a bent over stone and on it was, "Here be Old Hats," with an ancient crown cut in the stone, and the P. S. read, "The shades of unfashionable life abide in him who do buy such." And the pole bobbed a good bob. And it was so on all the stones about old goods. And he then saw in his dream the wrecks of many 1000's of ancient style houses. He shivered. He got cold. He got colder. Had the buck ager. He saw the pole a bobbing. The stones begun to knock their heads together, and he waked up to find himself shaped up and genteelly fixed out in natty fall styles of 1893, and on his suit, overcoat, hat and underwear was the sign BLAIRS. And he was much tickled, and he told all his tribe how near he come to getting jabbed with a hook that was on the pole and "to always go to BLAIRS." And they do to this day say go to

WHO SENT THE MACHINE?

The Attempt to Assassinate Capri to be Investigated.

BERLIN, Nov. 28.—The chief of police has been asked to investigate the attempt to assassinate Chancellor Capri. The infernal machine was sent from Orleans, France, and has been turned over to the French ambassador, who promises to assist in tracing the person who sent the package.

The emperor and all his ministers today congratulated the chancellor on his escape.

BONANZA DAYS HAVE GONE.

When Mine Superintendents Got From $12,000 to $25,000 a Year.

Times have changed on the western slope of the Rocky mountains since the day when Philip Didesheimer, then superintendent of the Ophir mine, bought a sealskin overcoat and paid $1,000 for it. Financial darkness has settled on the region where at one time men holding positions similar to the one named drew all the way from $1,000 to 2,000 salary per month. Then nobody was more prosperous than the men who dug gold and silver from the ground in Nevada, but now the summit of Mount Davidson is occupied by the lean spirit of economy. Salaries must be slashed and all other expenses reduced, says the San Francisco Call. When Mr. Didesheimer was bossing operations at Virginia City he was paid from $1,500 to $2,000 a month for his services, and he, like other superintendents, could afford to spend lavishly. One of the first superintendents, Mr. Palmer, who had charge of Ophir, had an annual salary of $25,000 for several years, and none of them received less than $1,000 a month. The other day the salary of Superintendent Keating, of the Savage mine, who is one of the oldest and most experienced mining men on the coast, was cut down from $400 to $200 a month, and the other superintendents will naturally have to come to the same terms. William H. Patton, who was superintendent of Consolidated Virginia and a few other mines, received altogether from $1,250 to $1,500 a month for years. Charles Strong, of the Gould & Curry; Hank Smith, of the Belcher; Mr. Osbiston, who was employed by the Gould & Curry, and other men long enjoyed a salary of $12,000 a year. When the big Gould & Curry mill was built the company gave Mr. Strong a present of $10,000 as an extra mark of appreciation for his services as superintendent.

That mill was another example of the free manner in which cash was distributed when the glory of the mines was at its height. Over eighty mills were running around Virginia City at that time—the year 1863—and when they first began the charge they made was $30 a ton. There was a sudden drop to $15 a ton before long, and then gradually the price came down $1 a ton at a time until the present rate of $6 a ton, $7 a ton in some mills, was reached. Even this rate is deemed too high now on account of the depressed condition of the mines, and the mine managers say that it must be reduced.

Making a Name for Himself.

The man had been away from his native town for five years, and when he came to visit the old place again he was quite anxious to hear about the people he had known. After many questions he came to the subject of those who had gone away about the time he did.

"Where's Henry Biker?" he asked.

"Henry left three months before I did. I didn't take much stock in him, but when he went West he said he would make a name for himself, and I hope he did."

"That's just what he did," replied his companion.

"Well, well. I never would have thought it. How did he do it?"

"Signed it to a check. I don't know whose name Henry took, but it was good for $500 and Henry is now on his third year in the penitentiary."

Disposed of Her.

A missionary from Africa tells the following story:

"One day an old chief came to me with two wives, one old, the other young, and wanted to join my church. I told him we didn't allow a man to have more than one wife."

"He went away, and the next week came back with the young wife, both of them smiling, and said:

"Now me join church; me all right now."

"Where is your old wife?" I asked.

"She's all right too; me eat her up," placidly answered the old savage.

"I postponed the decision as to his application for admission to a more convenient season."—Sunday Mercury.

Lord of All He Surveys.

It is no uncommon thing in South Africa to see a male ostrich strutting about followed by three or four distinct broods, all of different sizes. When the incubating process is completed the cock bird leads his young ones off, and if he meets another proud papa engages in a terrific combat with him. The vanquished bird retires without a single chick, while the other, surrounded by the two broods, walks proudly away.

Where He Drew the Line.

She—If it were ever necessary and I were your wife would you go through fire and water for me?

He, hesitatingly—Do you think it would ever be necessary?

She, teasingly—It might.

He, grabbing his hat and starting for the door—Then I guess you'd better marry a fireman.

A Change for the Better.

Gray—Harris is said to have been a model prisoner while he was in jail. He never gave anybody any trouble.

Hogan—Well, then, it wasn't such a bad idea sending him to jail. He never made that kind of a citizen while he was outside.—Texas Siftings.

What He Was.

Governess—You see, my dear, the Antipodes live on the other side of the earth, and they only go to bed when we are getting up.

Little Emma—Then, Frauline, I suppose my brother, Fritz, the student, is an Antipode, eh?

NEWS OF THE RAIL.

An Important Decision Handed Down Yesterday

BY THE SUPREME COURT.

Items of Interest Picked Up For the Benefit of Readers of the "Democrat."

In the case of J. W. Seawell et al., respondents, vs. the Kansas City, Fort Scott and Memphis Railroad Co., appellants, a case of importance was yesterday decided by the supreme court, affecting long and short hauls by railroads and also the constitutionality of the Missouri statute affecting this question.

The respondents shipped coal from Carbon Center, this state, to Kansas City, and were compelled to pay $2 more per car than shippers from Minden and Liberal, though these mines were a fifty miles longer haul than from Carbon Center.

The railroad company did not deny the charge of discrimination, nor did they introduce any testimony, but prayed judgment on the ground that as their road in the haul from Carbon City to Kansas City ran out of and again into the state the Missouri statute was unconstitutional, the legislature having no authority to enact legislation affecting interstate commerce, this being purely the function of congress.

The supreme court holds that the haul in question is not interstate commerce and that the Missouri statute is good. The opinion was prepared with the expectation of the case going to the supreme court of the United States for final determination.

An Important Decision.

The supreme court yesterday affirmed the judgment of the lower court in the case of John Swadley, an employee of the Missouri Pacific railway, injured by a wreck upon the road, caused by a defective rail and grading. He will now collect the damages awarded him.

The facts warrant more than passing mention, for this case goes far toward establishing a precedent for future decisions and weakens the answer of the "fellow-servant" rule, which has deprived so many railroad employees of all recovery of damages for injuries sustained while under orders and in the service of a railroad.

In brief, this case establishes a new rule and declares that the employer owes something to his servants, and in the case of a railroad, good machinery, a safe roadbed, etc., are among the things so due, and that if a fellow-servant, while in the line of duty, is injured or damaged because of the fault in construction of machinery or roadbed (which is not under his own care), he may recover damages.

Engines Tamped With.

Three Burlington engines were tamped with by some evil minded person or persons while they were standing in the Union depot yards at St. Joseph Sunday evening, and had not the discovery been made when it was the dastardly act might have been followed by a serious loss of property and of life.

When the Hannibal & St. Joseph train from the east pulled into the Union depot at 6:40 o'clock last evening, says the St. Joseph News of yesterday, the usual half of ten minutes was made, after which Conductor Peter Clark signalled the engineer to pull out for Atchison.

The engineer turned on the steam, but the train had proceeded but a few car lengths when it came to a sudden stop and the engine refused to move farther.

The engineer left his box to make an examination of the machine and was rewarded by finding a coupling pin in the cross head on the right side. The movement of the engine had so bent the main rod that it could not be used until repaired and another engine was ordered out of the shops to pull the train to Atchison.

About the time it was discovered that somebody had been tampering with the Hannibal & St. Joseph engine the engineer of the Burlington & Missouri River train from Denver, which reached the union depot at 6 o'clock, proceeded to oil up his machine and he found that several bolts on the front part of the engine had been loosened and that it was liable to break down at any minute if an attempt was made to run it at the usual rate of speed.

The engineer says he knows the engine must have been disabled after it had reached St. Joseph, as it couldn't have been run in that condition from Wymore, where it was attached to the train.

Probably an hour after this last discovery was made the engineer who was to pull the train which left St. Joseph for St. Louis at 8 o'clock p. m., found that the cross heads of his engine had been tampered with in a manner much like that of the Hannibal & St. Joseph engine. Fortunately no attempt had been made to move it and the pin was removed without damaging the engine in the least.

A large majority of the railroad men about the union depot express the belief that some individual who had a personal grievance against some officer or employee of the road did the work.

TRIPLE TRAGEDY.

Desperate Shooting in Fort Worth Ends in Three Men Killed.

FORT WORTH, TEX., Nov. 27.—A bloody tragedy took place at Hico yesterday. William Massey shot William Olds twice with a pistol, when Olds drew his gun and commenced firing indiscriminately, shooting a young son of Massey's four times.

Olds discovered his mistake and followed the elder Massey, who ran after he shot Olds, into the former's yard, and shot him just as he sank to the ground from loss of blood from the first wound. Olds was shot twice.

All three men died last night.

Massey accused Olds of being intimate with Mrs. Massey, and trouble arose at Massey's house, where Olds went to collect rent. They were prominent farmers of highest respectability.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 27.—At midnight violence was reported all along the line of the Lehigh Valley railroad. Burgess Shields of Sugar Notch has notified Sheriff Walters that he is not in a position to preserve the public peace.

To a correspondent yesterday Mr. Esser said passenger and freight traffic was in excellent condition. The company officials notified their attorney that they will not tolerate any further interference upon the part of the strikers or those in sympathy with them. Sheriff Walter will have to take decided action to protect the company's property. So far as can be learned Colonel M. J. Keck of the Ninth Regiment has received no intimation from the authorities at Harrisburg to order out the militia.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

A Sensational Arrest at Fort Scott Yesterday.

After a long and tedious chase Sheriff Hagan, of County L, Oklahoma, yesterday arrested Dr. L. O. Cox, at Fort Scott, on the charge of murdering Under Sheriff Jesse Hendrickson at Pond Creek, Okla., last week.

Dr. Cox has been a physician in high standing in Fort Scott for a number of years. He attended the strip opening and went to Hunnewell and opened up a drug store. His strange and unusual manner of leaving the country and driving back to Fort Scott in company with a young man, who registered at the Nevada hotel as C. L. Fairlie, aroused the suspicion of the officers, and they followed them in a buggy to Nevada and Rich Hill, Mo. At the latter place Fairlie took a train for Iowa, and Cox had his team driven to Fort Scott. He came on the train and was soon after arrested. He secured his release through counsel and friends last evening, but will probably be taken back to Oklahoma to answer the charge.

Taken to the "Pen."

Sheriff Scrogg and Policeman Dauphine, of Nevada, passed through Sedalia last evening, on their way home from Jefferson City, where they had taken three Vernon county prisoners to the penitentiary, viz:

Dennis Addison was sentenced for seven years, on two indictments, for stealing cattle. He stole thirty-four head of cattle last summer from the pasture of J. B. Kinkead, and shipped them to Kansas City and sold them.

Ed Blair and Charles Ritchey were each sentenced for two years for robbing Thomas Watson of a watch and $45 in money.

Cold Wave Coming.

The winter wind has begun to blow And soon the snow and sleet will be here, And then the good people will want to know,

NO ANNANIAS IN THIS. HIGHEST HONORS AT THE WORLD'S FAIR. The following is a verbatim copy of the text of the Diplomas on KIMBALL PIANOS. "This exhibit deserves an award; for FIRST—The tone quality, which is full, round, sympathetic and musical. SECOND—The duration and singing quality of the tone is remarkable. THIRD—The scale is even and free from breaks. FOURTH—The action is first-class in every respect. FIFTH—The touch is easy, elastic and prompt in response, admitting of the most rapid repetition. SIXTH—Materials and construction give evidence of extreme care in their selection and workmanship and are all of the highest class. The designs of the cases are of great artistic excellence and are finished in the most perfect manner." On KIMBALL REED ORGANS. "The Organs exhibited were not expressly made for exhibition purposes, but are part of the regular warehouse stock. They are distinguished for the superior construction, high grade quality of material employed, originality, and first-class finish. Their tone, touch and action leave nothing to be desired. The points of particular excellence are as follows:— FIRST—A tracker guide rail, enclosing each tracker pin separately, and by being reamed from the opposite side of the socket-board, excluding all dirt and dust from the valves and preventing sticking. SECOND—A roller bar so constructed as to prevent the cutting of the treble straps. THIRD—An easily detachable organ lid. FOURTH—An original device, by which six sets of reeds are placed over one valve without diminishing the simplicity or desirability of the Organ as compared with ordinary two set organs. FIFTH—A graduated sounding board with raised valve seat, giving a power and quality rarely obtained in reed organs. SIXTH—An automatic swell operated by the opening or closing of the lid. SEVENTH—A sub bass, by use of which larger scale reeds are employed in a regular key board scale, thus giving the power of a heavy sub bass without using the regular sub bass action. EIGHTH—Ample bellows capacity and unusual ease of "blowing." All improvements protected by United States Letters patent." On KIMBALL PORTABLE ORGANS. "For superior artistic qualities, for extraordinary solidity and reliability of the mechanism for perfect workmanship, for progress as shown in the originality of construction and arrangement, by which it is possible to box and transport the organ to any part of the country, tuned ready for use, and requiring no expert to set it up on delivery. The original devices consist of: FIRST—A detachable key board, permitting the organ to pass through any ordinary door way. SECOND—A pipe clutch and rack, holding the pipes firmly against displacement during transportation. THIRD—A pedal action so constructed that the pedal key board can be removed for shipment, without disconnecting any part of the action. FOURTH—A blow lever applicable at either end of the organ. FIFTH—A wind chest with two wind pressures, a tubular pneumatic action, insuring the quickest repetition known, and incapable of clogging. SIXTH—A bellows, the heavy pressure bellows inside the lighter, rendering the tone of the organ unusually firm and steady. SEVENTH—A pneumatic draw-stop action. The touch, tone and action are in every respect commendable. The Organ is impervious to atmospheric changes and practically dust and vermin proof. It is protected by two U. S. United States Letters Patent. The organ displayed represents ordinary samples of the firm's manufacture. The article admirably fulfills the requirements of a first class portable Pipe Organ and marks a decided advance in the art. It meets a long felt want and is entitled to the highest award." GENERAL AGENCY: SHARP'S CENTRAL MISSOURI MUSIC HOUSE. 112 EAST FIFTH STREET.
